

The Malta Islamic Finance Conference: A New Beginning 2010

David Zahra

Education and Qualifications

- B.A Legal & European Studies
- LL.D
- LL.M Corporate & Commercial Law – University of London (King's College, London)

Experience

David graduated as Doctor of Laws at the University of Malta in November 2006 after submitting his thesis on the Maltese Parliament's role in the scrutiny of European legislation.

David's main interests are in financial services, competition law, trust law and Arab commercial laws. He has concentrated on these areas in his post-graduate studies at the University of London. In partial fulfilment of the LL.M. degree, he submitted a thesis on the competition law aspects of the EU Regulatory Framework for Electronic Communications and its implications on small EU Member States under the supervision of Professor Richard Whish.

The Malta Islamic Finance Conference: A New Beginning 2010

David has also studied at the Università degli Studi di Roma Tre, Rome as part of the Erasmus exchange programme.

At Camilleri Preziosi, David is actively involved in M&A and corporate finance transactions, both locally and internationally.